HEADQUARTER RELOCATIONS TO TEXAS

Texas Economic Development & Tourism Office | Office of the Governor

Officially known as the headquarters of headquarters, Texas offers an environment where corporate operations across all industries can thrive. The Lone Star State champions a world-class economic landscape, attracting businesses of all sizes—from Fortune 500 headquarters to small- and medium-sized businesses—thanks to a unique combination of competitive business advantages that no other state can claim. Fueled by one of the lowest business operating costs in the nation, in combination with a reasonable regulatory environment, lower cost of living and an exceptional quality of life, Texas is a top state for corporate headquarters relocations. Companies relocating headquarters from California currently account for nearly 50% of all relocations to Texas. Following an acceleration period in 2020-2021, relocations have continued to stay steady and consistent with historical data, growing the long list of companies relocating to the state.
