

TX Crimestoppers July Newsletter

Reina Ramos, Student Ambassador, Port Neches-Groves High School

If I'm honest, I don't know where to start this paper. Over the past four years I have written my yearly newsletter without hesitation and the words would flow out of me effortlessly. Now, this is my final newsletter, and I find myself overly sentimental about the whole thing. This Ambassadorship has provided me with such purpose and responsibility it's difficult to accept that it will be over soon. Over the years I have learned to communicate and exchange ideas with likeminded students, I have met new people who have educated me and expanded my horizons and with that, I have been able to improve my own community. Through simple connection and communication my school has seen a drop in both vaping and overall crime, and by serving as an example, other schools have followed suit. I am proud of my work, and I want to thank everyone who has helped me achieve this. Mostly, I want to take these experiences and carry them with me after this year. I hope to pursue a career in Criminal Justice (specifically heading to Law School after my Bachelor's) and this organization helped fuel my dream in the first place. I will continue to spread the message of Crimestoppers' "See Something, Say Something," even after I graduate from being an ambassador, and I will always remember my work with Crimestoppers. You all have ignited a passion that I will forever carry in my heart to seek justice and prevent crimes before they occur. Never stop spreading awareness and never stop educating both yourself and other people on crimes not only in your community, but others as well. It'll make all the difference for not only other people, but for yourself as well.
