

GOVERNOR GREG ABBOTT

The often-used slogan for the Lone Star State's approach to commerce is that "Texas is wide open for business." This openness and dedication to inclusivity in business have been major parts of the foundation of our strong economy. It is crucial for this diversity to extend beyond our business climate to the hardworking men and women who make up the indomitable Texas workforce.

An important part of this workforce is Texans with disabilities, who make invaluable contributions to our state and economy. Not only must we enhance Texas' workforce system so it better serves Texans with disabilities, we must also engage in disability employment awareness to ensure all Texans have an equal opportunity to contribute to the workforce and participate in Texas' success and prosperity.

That is why the month of October is dedicated to Texans with disabilities. During this month, we commit ourselves to promoting disability employment awareness, creating more inclusive workplaces, and cultivating more employment opportunities for Texans with disabilities. As we work toward these goals, our economy will be strengthened by the diversity and full participation of workers with disabilities.

Not only as the governor of the Lone Star State but as a Texan with a disability myself, I encourage all Texans to join me in recognizing and commending the many achievements of Texans with disabilities who have helped build a better and brighter future for our great state.

Therefore, I, Greg Abbott, Governor of Texas, do hereby proclaim October 2020 to be in Texas, and urge the appropriate recognition whereof.

Disability Employment Awareness Month

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this the 21st day of September, 2020.

Governor of Texas
