Corpus Christi Army Depot

2024

OVERVIEW

Corpus Christi Army Depot (CCAD) was established in 1961 and is a leader in repair and overhaul for rotocraft, engines, and components in U.S. Army Aviation and other Department of Defense aviation agencies. CCAD is tasked with providing the best value for modification, repair, and overhaul of rotary wing components and aircraft to support strategic readiness of the Army. CCAD sits within the boundaries of Naval Air Station Corpus Christi.

UNITS & MISSIONS

U.S. Army Combat Capabilities Development Command (DEVCOM) has the primary mission to develop, integrate, demonstrate, and sustain aviation and missile systems capabilities to support modernization priorities and improve readiness. CCAD partners with Army Contracting Command, the Civilian Personnel Advisory Center, Defense Logistics Agency (DLA) Corpus Christi Distribution Center, and Test, Measurement, Diagnostic, and Equipment on the federal side. On-site partners include Boeing, General Electric, Honeywell, and Sikorsky. CCAD provides depot artisans, facilities, and equipment along with rebuild knowledge coupled with surge capability to support the needs to the Department of Defense. The on-site partners provide materials, technical and engineering assistance as well as private sector experience.

PROJECTS & PARTNERSHIPS

The City of Corpus Christi received $330,000.00 for condensate return station replacement in support of CCAD. CCAD is consistently involved in their local community. There is a Career Day at local middle and high schools where CCAD representatives attend events at local middle and high schools to talk about careers with the federal government. CCAD also partners with the local Army Recruiting Company and CCAD's commander swears in new Army recruits. Command leadership attends the quarterly meeting of the United Corpus Christi Chamber of Commerce South Texas Military Task Force. The goal of the organization is to raise awareness of the military bases in the community. Command leadership also attends monthly meetings with the Mayor, elected officials, stakeholders, and community business leaders. In education, CCAD partners with Texas A&M University Corpus Christi, Texas A&M University Kingsville, and Del Mar College.

ECONOMIC IMPACT

The Texas Comptroller of Public Accounts estimates the population directly affiliated with CCAD contributed at least $1.4 billion to the Texas economy in 2023. The Comptroller's economic impact analysis represents a conservative estimate of the economic importance of CCAD to Texas. Each installation's distinctive characteristics contribute to the Texas economy in different ways. This analysis uses a consistent model to determine the economic impact of each of the state's military installations to the state's economic growth.
