

Texas Government Code 2308.101(14) requires the Texas Workforce Investment Council (Council) to provide annual reports to the Governor and Legislature, "including an annual report analyzing work development programs that focus on welfare to work initiatives."

This report aligns with Destination 2010: FY2004-FY2009 Strategic Plan for the Texas Workforce Development System (Destination 2010), endorsed by the Council in September 2003 and approved by the Governor in October 2003.

Destination 2010 addresses the services provided and participants served by the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) program in one of the plan's Critical Success Factors and a corresponding Long Term Objective.

Critical Success Factor:

Current and future workers (including TANF participants) will access and be successful at the programs necessary to gain knowledge and skills for tomorrow's economy. The system will achieve this by maximizing participant outcomes at critical points in the continuum of education to employment, including:

- Adult Education
- Secondary Education
- Postsecondary Education
- Employment for mature workers through the Senior Employment Program
- High-growth population segments
- TANF participants

Long Term Objective:

Decrease number of TANF recipients cycling on and off TANF to 44% by Q4/09.

Welfare to Work Initiatives in Texas Report 2007

Workforce Programs and Initiatives in Texas that Focus on Welfare to Work

December 2007

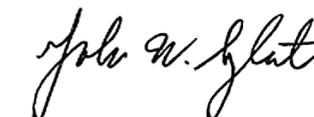

Dear Texas Workforce System Stakeholder:

The Texas Workforce Investment Council (Council) is pleased to present this eighth annual report, Welfare to Work Initiatives in Texas: Report 2007, as mandated by Texas Government Code 2308.101(14). This report was approved at the Council's December 7th meeting.

The information presented here is organized by two types of programs. Programs that Directly Serve Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) and State Program (SP) Recipients are those that serve only TANF or SP families. Other Programs Available to Temporary Assistance for Needy Families and State Program Recipients are those that serve other populations as well. For both types of programs, this report highlights general program information, federal and state administrative agencies, program purpose, target population, participant eligibility, types of services, and provides fiscal year results for each program. The most recent available twelve-month program data are presented for each program.

Since the implementation of welfare reform in 1995, Texas' welfare to work programs have been very successful, resulting in significantly reduced caseloads and increased employment. Partner agencies in the Texas workforce development system have worked diligently to help individuals successfully transition from public assistance to employment.

I commend this report to you.

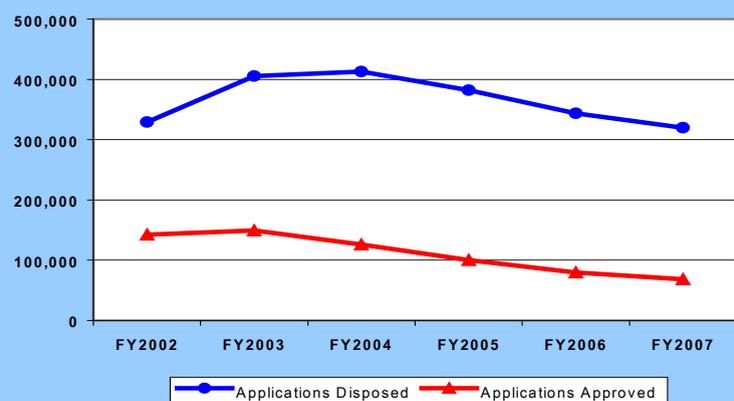

John W. Sylvester
Chair

Temporary Assistance for Needy Families and the State Program

Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) is the federal cash grant program for eligible low-income adults with children. The State Program (SP) is the state funded cash assistance program for eligible low-income two parent families with children. The Texas Health and Human Services Commission (HHSC) is the state agency in Texas designated for TANF and SP administration. HHSC collaborates with community partners to identify, develop, and expand resources to encourage independence. HHSC is responsible for eligibility determination, eligibility-related issues such as sanctions, assigning exemptions, and tracking the number of months a recipient is on TANF for purposes of state and federal time-limits. HHSC administers Medicaid and Food Stamps, two additional support programs utilized by TANF and SP recipients. The program results below show the number of applications for TANF and SP that were processed and approved over a six year period.

The program results below show, in FY 2007, Choices served 43,380 adults, resulting in an entered employment rate of 92.2%. Employment retention rate data is included on the graph for the calendar years listed, with partial years represented for 2002 and for 2006, due to data availability. ### Application Assistance Programs

Supplemental Security Income (SSI) and Retirement, Survivors, and Disability Insurance (RSDI) are two federal programs that provide cash assistance and other benefits for the disabled or those otherwise unable to work. A portion of the TANF and SP population is often eligible for these programs. The Texas Health and Human Services Commission contracts for services to assist TANF and SP individuals through the application and appeals process. The contractor identifies individuals who are likely eligible, assists them to apply, gathers supporting documentation, and assists with the appeals process if the initial claim is denied. The program results below show the number of individuals who were accepted for SSI or RSDI and the number of individuals who have pending initial claims.

Federal Administrative Agency: None
State Administrative Agency: Health and Human Services Commission
Purpose of Program: To assist TANF and SP individuals in the application and appeals process for SSI and RSDI
Target Population: TANF and SP adults
Participant Eligibility: Same as TANF
Types of Services: Application assistance, assistance with paperwork such as doctor's referrals, and assistance with appeals

Due to program changes, data related to this program is not available this year. The reporting agency (HHSC) has implemented an in-house strategy for identifying and providing application assistance to TANF clients. Currently, the program has not been running long enough to capture the requested data. FY 2006 program results showed 797 individuals accepted by SSI or RSDI and 746 with pending claims or in appeal process.
