PROCLAMATION
BY THE
Governor of the State of Texas

TO ALL TO WHOM THESE PRESENTS SHALL COME:

WHEREAS, the Texas Hill Country and the entire Central Texas region sustained an unprecedented tropical rain event this past week that resulted in massive flash flooding that led to the tragic loss of life; and

WHEREAS, our hearts as a people are collectively aching for the families of loved ones who are still missing or who perished in the floods, and for the first responders who are putting their lives on the line to rescue and recover the lost; and

WHEREAS, even while the waters raged, Texans waded into the flood waters to help fellow Texans, some to rescue and others to comfort, but all wanting to find hope; and

WHEREAS, throughout our history, Texans have been strengthened, assured, and lifted up through prayer; and

WHEREAS, it is right and fitting that the people of Texas should join with others from across the country and around the world to seek God's wisdom for ourselves and our leaders, to pray for God's peace and comfort upon those who have experienced devastating loss, and to ask for His merciful intervention and healing in this time of crisis;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, GREG ABBOTT, Governor of Texas, pursuant to the authority vested in me by the Constitution and Statutes of the State of Texas, do hereby proclaim Sunday, July 6, 2025, to be a
